Negotiations By AFL-CIO In Breakdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pan American Airways was hit early today by an AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union strike after a breakdown in negotiations aimed at averting a walkout of some 12,000 employees. A federal mediator said negotiations had reached an "insurmountable impasse."

Union members began walking off the job within an hour after negotiations between union and management leaders broke off. Picket lines were set up at Pan American bases on both coasts.

The company said in advance of the walkout that a strike probably would ground all its flights. Its planes carry about 17,000 persons daily.

The union is seeking a 15 percent pay raise, improved vacations, a shorter work week and other fringe benefits for the maintenance, ground service employees and flight service personnel it represents.

About 1,100 to 1,200 employees walked off their jobs at 2:15 a.m. at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, the union said.

About the same time, the union called 2,500 of its members off their jobs on the Pacific Coast and Hawaii. About 150 pickets marched in Miami, the union said.

Pan America operates no domestic flights but flies to points throughout the world from New York, Miami, Chicago, Washington, Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Los Angeles and Houston, Tex.

The union said the 2,700 employees it represents at Cape Kennedy, Fla., would take no part in the strike. The union has a no-strike agreement with the federal government affecting missile site workers. The Cape Kennedy union members work on launching pads, fueling missiles and on maintenance.

Convention To Receive Platform

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A middle-road platform that largely reflects President Johnson's desire not to rock the boat goes before the Democratic National Convention tonight. Approval is expected, with no floor fight in prospect over any of the planks.

Members of the platform committee finished their work late Monday, turning out a document that for the most part affirms present administration policies and promises to improve and expand them rather than break new ground.

On the three issues that Republicans battled over at their convention last month—civil rights, extremism and control of nuclear weapons—the Democratic platform drafters drew clear-cut issues for the coming campaign.

The Republicans, adhering to the wishes of Sen. Barry Goldwater, their presidential candidate, were silent on "extremism" and control of nuclear arms. But not the Democrats.

"We condemn extremism, whether from the right or left, including the extreme tactics of such organizations as the Communist party, the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society," the Democratic platform says.

As for nuclear weapons, it declares that control over their use must continue to rest solely in the hands of the President.

On the divisive civil rights issue the Democrats wrote a plank that the Southerners on the platform committee said they could go along with and that one of them, Pierre Pelham of Alabama, called "something of a victory for the South."

It declares that "the Civil Rights Act of 1964 deserves and requires full observance by every American and fair, effective enforcement if there is any default."

High Attendance Trend Continues

Legislator's Day At Fair

Today is Legislator's Day at the 62nd annual Missouri State Fair and a good delegation of members of the House of Representatives and State Senators are on hand for the day's event. Lacking in attendance are state officials from Governor John M. Dalton, down through the official family—they are at Atlantic City, N. J., attending the Democratic convention.

The lawmakers arrived early in the morning and visited over the grounds seeing the many exhibits. They were guests at a luncheon served on the lawn of Secretary of the State Fair W. H. Ritzenthaler on the fair grounds, who with Commissioner Don Thomason and their wives were hosting the visiting officials.

Judging of the 31 candidates for Missouri's Queen of Fairs began today. The girls represent various county fairs and expositions over Missouri this summer. Final judging takes place on Wednesday, Governor's Day, and the official announcement will be made that night in front of the grandstand.

The admission department of the fair reported a steady increase in attendance, with Monday's report showing nine more persons than in 1963. Attendance was 16,109 this year, and an even 16,100 in 1963.

Monday was Farm Family Day and 96 counties of Missouri's 114 were represented by a selected farm family from each county. There was a registration of 432 persons.

It was a full and busy day for the visitors from all over the state, as these farm families completed their registration and had the morning hours free to visit the various commercial, agriculture and the livestock exhibits. In the afternoon they were guests of the fair at the opening of the harness and running race program in front of the grandstand.

During intermissions between racing heats, prizes were awarded to various families. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Laubert, Freeburg, Mo., in Osage County, won the prize for the largest family. They have seven children, all present at the fair. First prize to the family traveling the greatest distance, based on the multiplying the miles traveled by each member of the family went to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Glueck, Illmo, in Scott County. Their mileage was 337 miles multiplied by five children and themselves brought the mileage to 2,359 miles. Second place went to Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Koch and three children from Sikeston, in New Madrid County. They traveled 350 miles multiplied, giving them a total of 1,750 miles.

The greatest number of years compiled by a man and wife in 4-H leadership went to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leimkuehler, Nelson, Saline County, whose total years are 28. Second place went to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Steele, (Please turn to Page 4, col. 7)

Senate Race Entered By Bob Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy declared his candidacy today for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate from New York, a nomination considered already in his pocket.

Kennedy formally began his first campaign for elective office at the side of Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's No. 1 Democrat.

The attorney general issued his long-expected announcement from Gracie Mansion, Wagner's official residence, and the mayor returned to the city from the Democratic national convention at Atlantic City for the occasion.

Kennedy met head-on the issue of his residence.

"I shall devote all my effort and whatever talents I possess to the State of New York. This I pledge."

File Murder Charge In Tavern Shooting

BRANSON, Mo. (AP)—A charge of first degree murder has been filed against Robert Homer Bryant, 39, a tavern operator from Ridgedale, as an outgrowth of a fatal shooting in a tavern.

Junior Leon Layton, 36, of Hollister was killed by a revolver shot in the neck during an argument Monday at Homer's State Line Tavern on Highway 65.

Unit Rule For Missouri Delegation

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Missouri Democratic national convention delegates agreed unanimously today, as expected, to vote under the unit rule.

Less than half the delegation showed up for a morning caucus, second they've held since arriving here. Gov. John Dalton asked the delegates to reaffirm the customary unit rule to avoid polling delegates during convention proceedings.

Under the unit rule, all of a state's votes are cast as the majority decides.

Dave Grant, delegate from St. Louis, first asked for an exception to the rule in case of a floor vote on seating the Mississippi delegation. After being assured by Dalton and other delegates there would be an ample opportunity to debate the question, he agreed to the unit rule.

Delegates were told there are now ample tickets available for families to get into convention hall. One hundred tickets have been acquired and more can be obtained if needed, it was said.

Plans Extraordinary Appeal For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican sources said Pope Paul VI will make an extraordinary peace appeal Wednesday.

The sources said the pontiff would speak at his weekly general audience at his summer residence just south of Rome.

As the convention went into a second day it still faced smoldering disputes over the seating of the Alabama and Mississippi delegations.

Johnson, who has said he wants all the people of the nation to unite under his tent, was trying to find a way of cooling off these two fires before they erupt into a floor fight and perhaps anger other Southern states.

The rebel Alabama delegates who refused to sign a pledge to support the party's nominees were told to surrender their credentials.

Only 13 members of the delegation—6 delegates and 7 alternates—have signed the pledge but Monday night all the Alabamians brushed past guards and took their seats anyway.

When they returned to their hotel, a telegram was awaiting them from David Lawrence, chairman of the Credentials Committee, asking them to surrender their passes.

There was no immediate decision whether they would.

As the President held back on his decision on a running mate, one of the men he vetoed for the job—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—announced finally and formally he was entering the New York Senate race.

At his side when he made the announcement in New York was Robert F. Wagner, the city's mayor, and the state's top Democrat.

Tough Year Ahead For Second Grader

GILMAN CITY (AP)—One day of school was all it took for Douglas Taggart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taggart of near here, to realize that the year ahead was going to be rough.

"I had no idea," he said, upon arrival home Monday from the first day of the new school term, "that the second grade was so much harder than the first grade."

Sheb Wooley: Fame, Fortune, Friendliness

He Belongs Under a Cowboy Hat

By W. D. HILL

JOHN WAYNE once described James Arness (Matt Dillon of Gunsmoke fame) as a man who belonged under a cowboy hat. Tall, lanky Sheb Wooley, featured in the Missouri State Fair Grandstand Show, is a man who looks like he belongs under a cowboy hat. And Wooley has spent a lot of the past several years under one.

He recently completed four years on the "Rawhide" TV series, "And you know," he says, "This is the first time I've really gotten to Sedalia although we drove that herd this way all that time."

Talking to Wooley is like talking across the backyard fence to one of your neighbors. He's about as humanly human as any man you'll meet, despite his fame for hit recordings, top billing in academy award winning movies, comedian, song writer and a co-starring role on "Rawhide."

He's an easy going, slow talking, friendly sort. That is rare to the entertainment world. For reporters assigned to write a story about a visiting entertainment personality, this is seldom cooperative. Not Wooley. As we talked, over dinner at Flat

HUNGRY STATE FAIR STAR — Sheb Wooley, featured on the State Fair Grandstand Show, was just clowning for the Democrat-Capital camera with a rib steak, during an interview Monday evening when this picture was snapped. After four years on the "Rawhide" trail, as a co-star of that TV series, he finally reached Sedalia. "And this food sure beats what Wishbone was dishing up from the chuck wagon," he says. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Creek Inn, it was more like meeting an old acquaintance than an interview, although we had never met.

Mid-Missourians probably know Wooley best for his role as Pete Nolan in the "Rawhide" series, but those that have been watching the late shows on TV or recall the academy award winning film, "High Noon," which starred Gary Cooper, they might remember Wooley as the killer that stalked Cooper throughout the film. Wooley chuckles, remembering his constant companion in the film—a jug of "red-eye."

But he doesn't chuckle when he talks about opening night of the Grandstand Show at the fairgrounds. His act is the last on the nightly program, which runs through Thursday, and Sunday night the microphone began to act up and his performance was hardly audible in the grandstand. "We're going to fix that tonight (Monday)," Wooley said. And he apparently did, for the situation was corrected Monday night.

Called "Mr. Versatile," Wooley is considerably different than most recording, TV and movie stars. He covers not one, but all of the fields. He has appeared in 105 "Rawhide" TV shows, made 30 movies and has a long list of hit recordings to his credit, including "Purple People Eater," and "Too Young to Tango."

But why does a man already famous make records under a different name?

As LBJ Unity Ranks Shape

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—President Johnson's peacemakers worked backstage today in a new effort to shape the 1964 Democratic National Convention into an LBJ unity spectacular unmarred by Southern disharmony.

As part of this strategy to keep Democratic ranks intact, the President was reported hesitating over the possible choice of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as his running mate because of evidence of Dixie opposition.

Khanh Quits Viet Presidential Title

GEN. NGUYEN KHANH

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh gave up the title of president and his dictatorial powers today under the angry demands of students and Buddhists for an end to military rule. He was expected to stay on, however, as the actual chief of the U.S. backed government.

The 37-year-old strong man may resume the premiership he dropped after the revolutionary military council elected him to the presidency 10 days ago. Or he might have himself re-elected president of a revamped regime. He retains command of South Viet Nam's armed forces.

Jubilant student leaders told The Associated Press that Khanh had agreed to hold a new election for chief of state and that the military council would then be dissolved.

Student leader Ton Thah Tue said he had been in telephone contact with Khanh at the presidential office building, and Khanh said he was willing to:

—Revoke the charter he promulgated Aug. 16 that gave him sweeping powers.

—Have the military council hold a new election for the chief of state—conceivably re-electing Khanh.

—Dissolve the council after the election, and set up some new form of government.

An aide in Khanh's office said that this version was essentially correct. It does not mean, the aide said, that Khanh has resigned his power as chief of Viet Nam.

No Second Chance To 'Clarify'

By J. A. Dear
Democrat-Capital
Convention Correspondent
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The man in the White House has to be understood the first time," said Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island in his keynote speech to the Democratic convention.

"What does the Republican candidate choose to have anything mean at any given moment?" he asked. "The world cannot wait until Saturday to learn what he meant on Monday."

Obviously there is an advantage to the party whose convention comes second in terms of scoring points off the opposition. It is equally obvious that Pastore is correct in asserting that there is no substitute "for clarity" at the White House. But clarity is not enough. The man uninformed can be quite clear and absolutely wrong. Information digested by a mind of quality produces positive clarity.

President Johnson is a stickler about getting accurate information, as the following story demonstrates: At the end of an interview in the pre-Beagle incident era, the President was asked to pose with his dogs. He agreed to do so, phoned the Beagle-keeper to ask that the dogs be brought to the White House lawn, and then brought this guest through the back doors to await their arrival.

Mr. Johnson, hardly a model of patience, shortly sent his Secret Service agent back. He reappeared with the Beagle man, (Please turn to page 4, col. 6)

Fireworks Kill 42

TOLUCA, Mexico (AP)—At least 42 persons were killed when a pile of fireworks exploded during a religious celebration near here Monday. Another 33 were injured.

Rescue workers, digging through debris in the village of Atlahuaca in central Mexico, said the toll of dead and injured might go higher.

The fireworks exploded near several tanks of inflammable gas. Authorities said they had not determined what set off the fireworks.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I think there is something wrong with my 14-year-old brother but my parents refuse to talk about it.

Mat is in the fifth grade and I know he should be at least in the ninth. He slaps my mother and punches my father, and they never say one word to him. Last night at the supper table he threw a glass of water in my father's face. Father just sat there. I asked him why he didn't punish Mat and he answered, "The boy is a fool and nothing can be done about it."

I worry about my brother because he does such cruel and hurtful things. Last week he put my little puppy Perky in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. If I hadn't accidentally found Perky she would have been dead within the hour.

I've begged my mother to talk to the minister about Mat but she says "This is our cross and we must bear it."

Please tell me what should be done.—AFRAID SISTER.

Dear Sister: Mat should be receiving special care and guidance, not only for his own good and his own protection, but for the safety and peace of mind of those around him.

Parents do the mentally handicapped child no favor when they treat such a child as if he were normal.

Ask your mother to speak to the family physician at once and ask for his advice.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you have mentioned this problem in your column before but people need to be reminded periodically. They seem to forget. I am referring to the obnoxious habit of chewing gum with the mouth wide open.

A woman in our office chews from the minute she sits down at her desk until she leaves at night. We call her "The Old Corn Popper." Not only does the gum go crackle and snap but the dentures go click click clack until you could go right straight through the ceiling.

Can it be that this person does not hear herself? I find it difficult to believe. I must conclude that she has no consideration for others.

Please, Please, Please print this letter, Ann. I will tack it on our bulletin board. Thanks from the bottom of my heart.—SOS.

To Whom It May Concern: If you are reading this from an office bulletin board and have gum in your mouth, you may be "Old Corn Popper,"—so watch it!

Dear Ann Landers: Why don't you go jump in the lake?

In a recent column you called a man a goof because he was smart enough to ask a lady to list her financial holdings before making her his wife.

On several previous occasions, however, you wholeheartedly encouraged women to get all the facts and figures before they married. Why the preferential treatment?

If SHE has the right to know all, why doesn't HE have the same right?—MERRE MALE.

Dear Merre: The role of the male is to provide for his wife. She, therefore, has the right to know in advance whether or not she may have to take in laundry—or if she can hire a little day help for herself.

The man who is preoccupied with a woman's financial holdings is invariably looking to take life a bit easier.

Police Reports

John Wiley, 1831 South Barrett, reported the theft of a boys model 26-inch bicycle from the address sometime Saturday night.

A burglar entered Crouch's Tavern, 16th and Grand, sometime Saturday night and stole $15 in cash and a carton and package of cigarettes.

Sgt. Perry Franklin investigated and reported entry was gained by prying open a north door.

John Madden, 516 North Quincy, reported a fire was slashed on his car Saturday night while the auto was parked on the Pittsburgh-Corning parking lot.

John DeJarnette, 3129 South Washington, told police Sunday afternoon that four baby moon hubcaps were stolen from his 1960 convertible while it was parked at a service station at 16th and Limit.

A fair visitor had a tachometer valued at $54 stolen from his auto parked outside the fairgrounds late Sunday night. Robert Hale, Bucyrus, Kan., reported the theft to the Highway Patrol and it was relayed to Sedalia police.

Police investigated a break-in at the William Goodwin residence, 105 East Johnson, at 1:45 a.m. Sunday. Nothing was reported missing, however. The intruder apparently entered through a west window.

Accidents

It seems the safest place to be at this year's Missouri State Fair is on the race track.

For despite several vicious accidents, one involving seven cars, no one suffered anything more than a few bruises. However for the rest of the fair it's a different story.

One freak accident occurred when a fireman slipped while boarding a fire truck and fell on John L. Welsh of Harrisonville, Mo. Welsh was taken to Bothwell Hospital in Sedalia with a fractured ankle.

Mrs. Evelyn G. Miller, 502 Wilkerson, suffered a fracture of the left ankle shortly before noon Sunday at her home. Mrs. Miller slipped on the basement stairs and fell.

She was taken to Bothwell Hospital where Dr. D. R. Edwards attended her and had X-rays taken of the injury.

Debbie Morris, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris, Crestview Trailer Court, was painfully injured shortly after noon Sunday, when she fell from her bicycle and was thrown into gravel on the road at the court.

The girl was riding her bicycle and apparently skidded on loose gravel in making a sharp turn. She received a severe abrasion on the inner side of her left arm, abrasions of the left knee and also right knee.

She was treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

Mrs. Beulah Hilborn, 41, Overland, Mo., suffered a severe fracture of the right leg at the ankle in a fall at the Missouri State Fairgrounds, shortly before noon Sunday.

According to her husband, R. H. Hilborn, the family arrived at the fairgrounds shortly before the mishap and was walking on a roadway when Mrs. Hilborn slipped and fell on some loose gravel.

The accident occurred on the roadway from the northeast parking lot as it enters the roadway from the main gate. Bill Bailey, of the admissions de-

She was treated by Dr. B. L. Boatright, and Dr. Elliott Braverman. The latter physician operated and pinned the broken bone.

A four-car accident on Highway 50 just east of the drive-in theatre resulted about 12:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon due to heavy and slow moving traffic enroute to the Missouri State Fair.

At the time a line of traffic was backed up west on the highway to near the point of the accident, waiting to turn toward the fairgrounds at State Fair Blvd.

Fortunately no serious injuries resulted to occupants of the vehicles.

Involved was a 1962 Cadillac sedan, driven by James Block, 1257 West 63rd Street Terrace, Kansas City, which was headed east and failed to stop for the halted traffic. The car crashed into the rear of a 1957 Plymouth sedan, driven by Les Moore, 21, Atchison, Kan., knocking it forward into a 1964 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Charles Williams, Overland Park, Kan.

The front end of the Cadillac was extensively damaged and the rear and front end of the Plymouth badly smashed and wrecked. The rear of the Williams car was damaged and the front bumper bent as it struck the rear bumper of another car, which had minor damages.

Moore was taken to the hospital where he was examined for injuries to the left arm and then released.

Trooper T. H. Ferguson, State Highway Patrol, investigated the accident.

Sedalia police investigated five accidents in the city Sunday and four could be attributed to extra heavy traffic of motorists to and from the State Fair.

A rearend type chain collision damaged three autos at 10:15 a.m. in the 2900 block of West Broadway.

Involved were a 1958 Plymouth, driven by Willie Cowley, 58, Atchison, Kan.; a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Jimmie D. Welborn, 20, Harrisonville; and a 1962 Chevrolet, driven by Gary H. Green, 22, Kansas City.

Police listed damage to rear of the Cowley and Welborn cars and to the front of the Green auto. All were eastbound.

The left fronts of two autos were damaged in a collision at 11:30 a.m. Sunday at Broadway and Quincy.

Police listed those involved as

The rear of a 1961 Chevrolet, driven by Nancy J. Champlin, 20, Kansas City, and the front of a 1956 Cadillac, driven by Johnny Richard Stroble, 62, Lohman, Mo., were damaged in the crash.

An accident at Skyline and Plaza in Southwest Village damaged two vehicles at 1:45 p.m. Sunday.

Involved, police said, were a 1963 Chevrolet, driven by Robert N. Kerber, 49, Cookville, Ill. and a 1964 Mercury stationwagon, driven by John J. McGrath, 52, Route 3.

Damage was recorded to the front and windshield of the Kerber vehicle and to the right side of the McGrath stationwagon.

Broadway and State Fair Blvd. was the scene of a minor mishap at 2:24 p.m. Sunday.

Police reported the vehicles involved as a 1963 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Harry F. Keek, 60, Route 1, Syracuse, and a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Charles R. Matthews, 42, Route 4.

The left front of the truck and the right front of the Matthews car were damaged, police said.

Tenth and Massachusetts was the scene of a car-truck accident at 5:42 p.m. Monday.

Involved were a 1956 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Charles L. Randall, 32, 1010 East Broadway, and a 1962 Oldsmobile, driven by Beatrice Groepper, 41, 719 East 16th.

Damage was to the left front fender of the Randall truck and to the left rear fender and bumper of the Groepper car.

Miss Mary Louise Lademann Weds Gary Dale Fry by Candleglow

Mrs. Gary Dale Fry

The candlelight altar of Tipton Baptist Church was the scene at seven o'clock Friday evening, July 31 for the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Lademann to Mr. Gary Dale Fry.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toby Lademann, Tipton. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fry, Tipton, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. J. D. Cooper officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar, which was banked with large baskets of white chrysanthemums and pastel colored flowers.

Miss Mary Ann Dick, organist, played wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Dolores Neps, cousin of the bridegroom, who sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza and rose patterned Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta, in empire styling. The fitted lace bodice had long tapered sleeves and a wide scoop neckline edged with cut out lace roses. The bouffant skirt, with its chapel length train, was appliqued on each side with lace medallions. A fold of organza defined the empire waistline. It tied in a soft bow at the back and fell into wide streamers which were trimmed with lace cut outs. The bridal headdress was a queen's crown of pearls and crystal stones. It held her double illusion elbow length veil. She carried an orchid on a Bible surrounded with pompon chrysanthemums tipped with blue, streamered with white satin.

Mrs. Lena Dahlstein, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her white eyelet dress was underlaid with blue. It was accented with a belled skirt and rounded neckline. The hat of self material, was wide brimmed. Blue satin streamers fell from the crescent spray of white chrysanthemums which were tipped with blue.

Miss Ruth Lademann, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Colleen Keever, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They were dressed like the matron of honor.

Candlelighters were Miss Karen Livers, cousin of the bride,

Shepley Looks To Districts To End Strife

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ethan Shepley, Republican nominee for Missouri Governor, looked to congressional district meetings today to clear up strife over the GOP chairmanship.

Shepley said Monday the party's campaign could get underway immediately if the strife is settled.

A controversy over the chairmanship developed after Shepley named Ethan Campbell, St. Joseph newspaper executive, as his choice for the state chairmanship, and the incumbent, Lem T. Jones Sr., Kansas City, refused to step down.

The district meetings today will select six committeemen each for the state committee's reorganization Sept. 8 at Jefferson City.

Shepley said the whole matter would be cleared up if those selected make it clear they are for Campbell. "It could be settled as a practical matter and the party would not have to wait until Sept. 8 to begin the campaign," he said.

Mrs. Charles Gary Meyer

Miss Sharlet Sue Pender Weds Charles Gary Meyer in August

Miss Sharlet Sue Pender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith, 7 Randy Drive, became the bride of Mr. Charles Gary Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meyer, 1308 East 18th, at nine o'clock Saturday morning, Aug. 1, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Joseph T. Nolan, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Altar bouquets were of white bridal stock and chrysanthemums.

Mr. Claude Boul, Jr., was organist. He accompanied Mr. John Vandekamp, who sang.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of rose-patterned lace and silk organza.

The basque bodice was fashioned of lace, with long tapering sleeves and a scalloped oval neckline. The flaring organza skirt featured a front overskirt, edged with a band of lace, which opened to a lace panel. Placed low at the back, were tiers of lace, forming the bustle back and lengthening to a sweep train. Her short pout veil of illusion was held by a petal cap of organza trimmed with pearls and she carried a white lace covered prayer book, arranged with a cascade of white roses and ivy. The bride placed a bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with pink satin at the altar of the Blessed Virgin. Miss Judy Meyer, maid of honor, wore a beige brocade dress covered with lace. She carried a bouquet of dusty rose carnations, with matching satin streamers.

Bridesmaid was Miss Jacquelyn Pender, St. Charles. She was attired in a pink taffeta lace covered gown and carried a bouquet of dusty rose carnations with matching satin streamers.

Mr. Gene Meyer was best man. Groomsman was Mr. John L. Pender, St. Charles. Mr. Bill Heurman and Mr. Jim Gregory ushered.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was Miss Becky Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Whittaker, who was flower girl. She wore a pink taffeta dress covered with dotted Swiss and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Master Delbert Pender, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pender, St. Charles, carried wedding bands to the altar.

A blue taffeta suit, covered with white lace flowers was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother selected a blue brocade dress. Their flowers were white iceberg chrysanthemums.

Guests were entertained at the home of the couple following the ceremony. Presiding at

Racial Violence Breaks Out At Service Station

MONROE, Ga. (AP) — Gunfire between a crowd of Negroes and several white persons broke out Monday night. Four Negroes were treated for shotgun wounds and police said the crowd later wrecked a service station operated by a white man.

Police Chief Jack Morris said a crowd of several hundred Negroes had jeered customers at the service station for nearly two hours.

Morris said they shouted, "Don't buy from that white man."

The station was damaged shortly before 3 a.m. today when several white men at the station departed, Morris said.

A car driven by Mrs. Tommy Cooper, wife of an operator of the station, was fired into as she drove into the station, Morris said.

Morris said the crowd caused extensive damage to the station and to two automobiles parked there.

the bridal table were Miss Lucille Davis, Houstonia, and Miss Pearl Whittaker.

The bride was graduated from Fredericktown High School and attended Southeast Missouri State College and Central Business College, the latter for one year. She is employed at the National Guard Armory.

The bridegroom, who is employed by Menefee Construction Company, is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School.

Mrs. J. B. Meyer Honored at Shower

Mrs. Freddie Meyer, Otterville, was hostess Aug. 15 at a baby shower at her home honoring Mrs. J. B. Meyer, Columbia.

Game awards were won by Mrs. Otto Carver and Miss Betty Thomas, who presented them to the honoree.

The gift table was covered with a pink and blue cloth and centered with a gift surrounded stork.

Guests, in addition to the honoree were: Mrs. Henry Robert and Karen, Mrs. James Sapp, Miss Betty Thomas, Mrs. Walter Dowdy, Mrs. Chris Meyer, Mrs. Otto Carver, Mrs. Ernest Meyer, Mrs. Raymond Miller, Mrs. Lee Lewis, Mrs. S. R. Seifert, Mrs. Charles Conner and Mrs. J. C. Burford.

Refreshments were served.

Burial will be in the North Lincoln Cemetery. The body is at the Fox Funeral Home, Cole Camp.

Teen's Dance Hall Blasted By Dynamite

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A teenagers' dance hall was damaged by a dynamite blast Monday night and its owner today linked the bombing with a blast that damaged a similar hall in Raytown recently.

The Monday night explosion did an estimated $6,000 damage to the Midwest Bandstand on U. S. 40 east of Kansas City. The establishment is operated by Don Armstrong, a radio disc jockey. It operates three nights a week and has been drawing crowds of between 500 and 800 teenagers, Armstrong said.

Armstrong said he believed the explosion was linked with a similar blast that damaged the Chicken Coop, another teen-ager dance hall, at Raytown. That establishment is owned by W. L. Tesch of Raytown.

Armstrong said witnesses reported seeing three adults drive away from the Midwest Bandstand building Monday night shortly before the explosion.

'Democrats Are Misled,' Barry Says

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today the Democrats "are misled by strange and unrealistic notions of appeasement and disarmament."

The Republican presidential nominee also said that if he is elected, U.S. allies in Europe will be invited to plug into the Washington-Moscow hot line.

In a speech prepared for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention he said that the United States must find a way to provide the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "with its own stock of small, tactical nuclear battlefield weapons—that may truly be called conventional nuclear weapons."

The weapons he is telling them about, Goldwater said, are "no more powerful than the firepower you have faced on the battlefield. They simply come in a smaller package."

In New York City Monday, Goldwater met privately with business leaders.

"It's been a very good day," he said. "I'm well pleased with it."

An aide said the meetings were held to give the business community a chance to get acquainted with Goldwater and his views.

In his speech to the veterans here, the Arizona senator said President Johnson and the Democrats are undermining NATO unity.

"This administration must answer not just to the voters of this nation, but to history for its subject failures in foreign policy. And of these failures, none is more tragic than the lack of support for NATO," Goldwater said.

Too often, Goldwater said, "this administration has bypassed our NATO partners to deal directly and unilaterally with the Soviet Union."

"Our hot line to Moscow is an unfortunate symbol of this. It suggests secret conversations, deals, unilateral negotiations in matters that concern and should involve all our partners in freedom," Goldwater said.

"I pledge that as president, our NATO allies will be given the opportunity to hook into our hot line, either directly or by diplomatic process."

New Try To Oust Rebel Dixie Group

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP)—Democratic National Convention officials made a new try today to oust rebel Alabama delegates from their seats even as they sought a formula for seating Mississippi representatives.

The Credentials Committee had made a pledge of backing for the convention's nominees for the price of a place on the floor, and most of the Alabamians had refused to sign. But they had obtained their credentials in advance. They sat in their places at the opening session Monday night despite repeated directions for those who had not signed to step aside.

Waiting for them when they got back to their hotels after the session were telegrams from David L. Lawrence, Credentials Committee chairman, asking them to surrender their credentials.

There was no immediate decision by the delegation on whether to comply or try again tonight.

The unpledged delegates—about 32—said Monday night they would leave the hall if ordered to do so, but would not give up their seats. Nobody ordered them outside.

The first night of the convention ended without a member of the mostly Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic party or the regular Democrats, an all-white group, taking delegate seats. Both groups were barred because the credentials committee had failed to resolve its most difficult problem.

who reported that the dogs were at the Vets.

The President contained his famous temper, and in a relatively calm tone spoke to this effect: Look, never misinform the President. Do not bring me wrong information. If you didn't know where the dogs were, you should have said so. Don't be afraid to say I don't know. That is very important.

The importance of accurate information increases as the importance of the problem before the President. He is privy to all the information that has been collected by the agencies of the government.

His opponent, Sen. Goldwater, is not, party by choice. He refused to be briefed by the CIA, apparently on the theory that that might deprive him of elbow room in the campaign, and perhaps also because he believes his contacts with the military are sufficient to keep him informed. He is close to Gen. Curtis Lemay. In fact, Goldwater's assertion that the phasing out of manned bombers will reduce the tonnage of nuclear devices that our forces can put on an enemy target reflects the thinking of a portion of the Air Force high command. (Goldwater is a Major General in the Air Force Reserve).

Lemay and Goldwater may be right. But it must be noted that their view is not shared by the balance of the military—industry—intelligence establishment.

Many thoughtful officials of the government are troubled by Goldwater's seeming reluctance to avail himself of chances to acquire more information.

His alleged failure on this score could have an unfortunate consequence. The administration may fear that it will be politically vulnerable to attacks by Goldwater, attacks that cannot be answered for reasons of state and that he would not have made in the first place had he permitted himself to be informed.

A suggestion of how this might come about is provided by Richard Rovere in the New Yorker. He points out, correctly, that the Viet Cong had reason to assume that the Destroyer Maddox was about to participate in a combined attack on North Viet Nam. Armed vessels of South Viet Nam attacked islands held by the Maddox was patrolling. It was the second attack, according to the Pentagon, that was inexcusable. All this was lost sight of in the immediate sweep of events at the time.

Reflecting on the incident, Rovere asks if the American response would have been so severe if anyone except Barry Goldwater were the Republican nominee.

If this is the way American policy is drifting because of the campaign we will have total non-clarity before its end, in spite of Barry's Air Force pals and LBJ's passion for correct information. And both candidates will have to share the blame for that.

Sneed, charged with parking in a loading zone, forfeited a $2 bond.

TV Networks Battle For Top Stories

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD — CBS' high command must be disappointed today if it was looking for jokes and snappy patter from its new convention-covering team of Robert Trout and Roger Mudd.

The successors to Walter Cronkite, making their debuts in the key positions on the CBS team, proved earnest, proficient, highly professional. But sprightly? No.

During the 90 minutes before the convention was gavelled to order, their main jobs were handling the news traffic and saying, "and now let's go down to the floor and our correspondent."

The floor reporters of all networks, who looked like perspiring Martians in their electronic rigs, were like terriers worrying a bone as they concentrated on the only two subjects fraught with any suspense at all: the Alabama and Mississippi seating fights and the mystery of President Johnson's choice of a vice presidential nominee. After a while, repetition of questions and evasive answers began to pall.

CBS' department of wit and humor was headed by Eric Sevareid, whose occasional thoughts are clarifying, down-to-earth and whose remarks are often funny. Harry Reasoner, too, struck light notes adroitly.

ABC, in its effort to add some leavening to the sober-sided and intelligent coverage of Howard K. Smith and Edward P. Morgan introduced comedian George Gobel as a political commentator but Lonesome George must have gotten his signals mixed. He interviewed the convention hall's lady organizer. His commercials are funnier.

Huntley and Brinkley, the ratings champs, headed NBC's smooth, well-organized coverage. Brinkley's greatest talent is his ability to pull together unusual, unexpected bits of information.

The networks are so highly competitive, scurrying around frantically interviewing every public figure in sight, that viewers sometimes feel they are missing the convention itself. Monday night the speeches of New Jersey's Gov. Richard Hughes and Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. were largely ignored by all three networks and two of them skipped the opening prayer and flag ceremonies.

1,500 Called From Homes After Wreck

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP)—A train wreck in Chillicothe forced about 1,500 persons out of their homes because of the danger of an explosion Monday night.

Several cars of potash, a car of naphtha, one of liquid petroleum gas and a few tanker loads of diesel oil were among about 15 cars of a Milwaukee freight train that piled up along the tracks in the southeast part of town.

Fire broke out in the wreckage. Firemen knocked out the flames, but railroad officials called for evacuation of homes within a three-block radius as a precaution.

Police and firemen went through the area with loudspeakers and pounded on doors, routing the residents on both sides of the tracks.

The people—some frightened, some grumbling—took shelter with friends and relatives or went to the city hall, courthouse and Salvation Army center.

They were kept out of their homes until a thunderstorm passed over the city early today. Officials feared lightning might touch off the inflammable wreckage.

A sidelight to the smash-up was the burning of the Milwaukee's railroad bridge across the Grand River about two miles southwest of town at the same time the smashed cars were on fire. The bridge toppled into the river.

A Milwaukee official said an overheated wheel bearing, or "hot box," probably caused both mishaps.

Take Broad Steps

Hospitals Taking Federal Funds Must Be Integrated

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has taken broad steps to assure against any racial discrimination — "from here on out" — in private or public nonprofit hospitals accepting federal funds.

However, the new and strengthened regulations are not retroactive — and affect only hospitals which received funds since March 2 or will receive them in the future.

Opinions are being voiced — both from within and outside government circles — that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which prompted the new action regarding institutions supported by the Hill-Burton Act may have far-reaching impact on many other hospitals.

Some hospital authorities say it's conceivable that, aside from the Hill-Burton matter, certain private, nonprofit hospitals might fall within the purview of the new civil rights law even when they receive no financial assistance from the federal government.

The Hill-Burton program, enacted into law in 1946, is the brainchild of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and former Sen. Harold Burton, R-Ohio.

Under the program, federal grants or loans are made available to assist in constructing and equipping needed public and voluntary nonprofit hospitals and other facilities.

Since 1947, Congress has appropriated annually from $65 million to $220 million for this purpose. Appropriations are distributed to the states and territories according to a statutory formula based on population and relative per capita income.

As the basis of action already taken by the federal government regarding Hill-Burton hospitals is a ruling of a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, made last Nov. 1. The ruling was that any hospital accepting Hill-Burton construction funds must open its staff and facilities to everyone, regardless of race.

This case, now known as the "Simkins" case, involved two hospitals in Greensboro, N.C. — the Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital and the Wesley Long Community Hospital.

A group of Negroes, including physicians, dentists and patients, brought the suit against the hospitals with the aid of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's legal defense and educational fund. The U.S. Department of justice intervened on behalf of the fund.

The majority opinion of the court said the "separate but equal" clause in the Hill-Burton law was a violation of both the 5th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. Those amendments provide that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law.

The court also held that a hospital constructed with Hill-Burton aid may not, on account of race or color, deny hospital admission to patients or hospital staff privileges to physicians and dentists.

Right after the decision was handed down — and before the Supreme Court had made its ruling — Secretary Anthony Celebrezze of the Health, Education and Welfare Department directed that no further "separate but equal" facilities be approved. His department administrator he Hill-Burton law.

But, following the Supreme Court's action, the Hill-Burton regulations were further revised — striking out the separate but equal clause, and including the following statement:

"Before a construction application is recommended by a state agency for approval, the state agency shall obtain assurance from the applicant that all portions and services of the entire facility for the construction of which, or in connection with which, aid under the federal act is sought, will be made available without discrimination on account of race, creed or color; and that no professionally qualified person will be discriminated against on account of race, creed or color with respect to the privilege of professional practice in the facility."

Dr. Harold M. Granning, an assistant surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service, told a reporter that, aside from the striking of the separate but equal clause from the regulations, the revisions strengthen the antidiscrimination provisions of the Hill-Burton law in this way:

In the past, the only assurance required of applicants — other than those applying under the separate but equal clause — was one providing for the admission of patients without discrimination as to race, creed or color.

"There was no assurance in the past," he said, "that professional staff would be admitted

TAIPEI (AP) — Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander in chief of the U.S. Pacific Command, says the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam will be a long and difficult one.

How long? "You can't put a time limit," Sharp told newsmen upon his arrival in Taipei. "Too many variables are involved."

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — The Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, Roman Catholic bishop of Bridgeport, says one of his priests has every right to belong to the John Birch Society.

The Rev. Francis E. Fenton, rector of Bridgeport's Blessed Sacrament church, is a member of the national council of the society, a militantly conservative organization.

"As an individual, Father Fenton enjoys the freedom of every American citizen to belong to any organization of his choosing," said Bishop Curtis. "As a priest he continues to enjoy that right."

without discrimination. Neither was there assurance against segregation within the facility itself. For example, under the old regulations, a hospital could have a ward within the hospital that would have only Negroes.

"Under the new regulations, all portions of the entire facility — the old part as well as the newly constructed one — must be open to all."

But Dr. Granning said "there is nothing retroactive" about the new regulations.

"They apply only," he said, "to hospitals we give assistance to from here on out — that is, beginning with March 2, the date of the Supreme Court's action."

However, as regards admission of patients, he said this: "The only hospitals that do not have to admit Negroes are the very few that were built as 'white' hospitals under the separate but equal clause. And the separate but equal projects constitute less than one per cent of the hospitals to which we have given assistance under the law."

The People Like the Fair

Like the preacher said: It's the true cry of nature — wherever we are we wish to be first.

Everyone wanted to be first into the Missouri State Fair grounds Sunday when lanes miles long formed on all highways leading to the many entrances. Everyone wanted to be first into the Smith-Cotton High school kitchen to obtain a tray of ham breakfast. Three lines of people converged on two doors before the lines broke down into singles — the maximum accommodation a la cafeteria. Self imposed orderliness kept the food lines moving methodically. No one suffered any pangs of hunger or impatience, even those at the tail end of the procession.

However, motorists who found themselves moving at snail's pace to the fairgrounds entrances Sunday provided study of an assortment of temperaments. Some were impatient, some were impassive; some were silent, some were loud. Whatever their feelings it was an experience everyone should have sometime as a driver's test of self-restraint. Those going to football games at Columbia have had it; those who have been in a mile long line of cars behind a slow moving two ton truck on winding highways have had it.

No one expected 9,717 more people would come to the state fair Sunday this year than attended a year ago when 38,663 passed through the gates. Parking accommodations inside the grounds were jammed to the bursting point. The same situation prevailed in private parking grounds outside the fair, as well as on nearby streets and roadways.

With this mass influx of motor cars and people from all sections of the state, the ticket sellers, traffic directors and parking attendants were sweating it out. Perhaps some flexible system may be devised to move the automobiles faster. If so it is a challenge to the ingenuity of fair officials to cope with such emergencies — which, of course, don't happen every day, either.

The fair management has been signally successful in arranging year after year improved agriculture, industrial and entertainment programs. Recognition of this is evident else 48,380 would not have been the attendance figure on the first Sunday of the 1964 exhibition.

If attendance continues to increase, then it bears out what we have said repeatedly — public acceptance of good fair programs is attested and this suggests the need of expansion and improvement of exposition facilities.

Every effort should be made by joint enterprise of the Fair management, the Department of Agriculture and the Missouri Legislature to cater to the convenience of state fair visitors whether it is in programming of events, expansion of grounds and building facilities, or just plain methods of making entrance to the grounds effortless and prompt.

Platform to Prevent Party Splits

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Democrats have laid down, in a speech and a platform, the main lines they will pursue in the 1964 campaign.

But the platform showed the controlling hand of President Johnson, even though he was still in Washington, as much by what it left unsaid as by what it pinpointed.

It's a compromise document plainly intended to prevent party-shattering splits. Particularly it tries to avoid alienating Negroes or Southerners, city-dwellers or farmers.

Yet, the very conscious, and apparently successful search for harmony here is going to make the Democrats' get-together even duller than last month's Republican convention, where the forces of Sen. Barry Goldwater completely dominated the show.

Here are those main lines voters can expect the Democrats to follow:

1. Americans never had it so good, and were never militarily so strong, as under the Kenedy - Johnson administrations. The Democrats claim the longest and strongest peacetime prosperity in our history.

2. Extremism will be a persistent Democratic target.

The platform condemned it, specifically naming the Communist party, the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society. Pastore said the Republicans have been taken over by reactionaries and extremists.

The Republican platform avoided repudiating extremism and, while Goldwater later said he did not want the support of the Ku Klux Klan, he did not do the same about the Birchites.

3. The platform promised new programs — such as expanded aid to education and broader health facilities, to name a couple — which would mean even broader participation of the federal government in American life.

The Republican platform promised some new programs, too, but because of its heavy emphasis on less government help and participation it is basically different from the Democratic document.

It was on some very sore subjects that the Democratic platform was most cautious. For instance, civil rights.

It promised "fair, effective enforcement" of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. This is the least it could do without alienating Negroes and Northern liberals. Because it was a minimum, it would not infuriate the South.

The best evidence that this was the language of political compromise is that Northern and Southern members of the Platform Committee acclaimed their work as a "unity" platform and a winner in November.

It said — but didn't attempt to promise, even if the Democrats are in control — that Congress should change its rules to end filibusters after reasonable debate. The filibuster is the Southerners' main weapon against civil rights bills.

And, for the first time since World War II, the platform omitted any demand for new civil rights legislation.

Even though Goldwater voted against the 1964 civil rights bill, the Republican platform on this subject seemed a little stronger than the Democrats.

While it promised "full implementation and faithful execution" of the civil rights act of 1964, it went on to promise "such additional . . . legislative actions as may be required."

But the Democrats' platform entirely ducked — and here Johnson's hand was plainly at work — any mention of the problem of reapportioning state legislative districts on the basis of population.

The Supreme Court had ordered this to give all voters a more equal voice in their legislatures. It could wreck some present state political machines. There is a fight now in Congress to postpone or entirely block the court's decree.

The Democratic platform not only didn't back up the court, it never mentioned reapportionment. A Platform Committee source said Johnson had sent word he wanted no reference to the subject because in his view any position the platform took would alienate city voters or farm voters.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

What's In Medical Name? Specialists Explained

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Phthisiologist. There's a $64 word.

If you ever needed the services of such a man, you were under the care of a doctor who specialized in the treatment of tuberculosis.

The practice of medicine has expanded so greatly that lots of specialists are required. Many people wonder about these titles. Let's try to clear the air.

An anesthesiologist does not always put you to sleep. He may inject a drug into your spinal canal so that you can remain awake throughout your operation. A dermatologist is a skin specialist and a gerontologist or geriatrician specializes in the diseases of the aged — a field that is growing because of the increased proportion of persons over 60 in our population.

An internist treats the so-called internal diseases but does not operate. His special field has been subdivided to include our old friend, the phthisiologist; the gastroenterologist, who treats diseases of the digestive tract; the endocrinologist, who treats diseases of the glands of internal secretion (pancreas, pituitary, thyroid and sex glands); the cardiologist or heart specialist; the rheumatologist and the allergist.

The obstetrician gives prenatal care to expectant mothers, delivers them and cares for them during the postnatal period, and the gynecologist is a surgeon who treats all other conditions of the female reproductive system. These two specialties are usually practiced by the same man.

The oncologist specializes in the treatment of tumors, especially cancer.

The ophthalmologist is a surgeon who fits glasses and treats all diseases of the eyes.

The otologist treats the ears; the rhinologist, the nose; and the laryngologist, the throat. More often a surgeon, the otolaryngologist, treats all three fields. The orthopedist is a surgeon who treats fractures, dislocations, and other diseases of the bones and joints.

The pathologist specializes in laboratory procedures and when all else fails he performs an autopsy to determine the true cause of death. One of his chief services to the living is the microscopic examination of tissue specimens taken to determine the nature of a lesion.

A pediatrician takes care of infants and children, but he now has a counterpart, the ephebician, who takes care of the very special problems of teenagers. The psychiatrist is a specialist in treatment and rehabilitation by physical means.

The proctologist is a surgeon who takes care of rectal diseases. The radiologist or roentgenologist not only interprets X-ray films—he gives treatments with X-rays, radium and radioisotopes. The urologist is a surgeon who limits his practice to diseases of the kidneys and male reproductive organs.

Although this list is not complete, let's not neglect the greatest specialist of all, the general practitioner, who, it has been truly said, specializes in all the diseases of men, women and children.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

If Tongue Sores Develop See Dentist Immediately

By William Lawrence, D.D.S.,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Doctor, my tongue looks like the back of a spotted calf. And sometimes it burns and feels irritated. I'm so worried about it. Do I have cancer?"

On examination, Mrs. B's tongue did indeed look spotted. There were irregular red areas, varying in size from a few millimeters to more than a centimeter, and covering the entire top of the tongue as well as the sides and tip.

The red areas were flat and depressed and had whitish borders that were slightly raised. Some of these red spots near the tip of the tongue were brighter than the others and looked angry. These were the ones that "burned."

No, Mrs. B did not have cancer. She had what's known as geographic tongue. It's called that because it resembles a map. Since the red spots change in size and shape and sometimes even completely disappear, it is also called "wandering rash."

It affects about 2 per cent of the general population and seems to be slightly more prevalent in women than men.

It is a harmless, benign condition that no one knows the cause of, although it is thought by some investigators to be a symptom of a neurologic disturbance. There is a recent report of this lesion clearing up after the use of steroids that were prescribed for an unrelated condition.

There is no specific treatment. However, when the tongue becomes irritated as the tip of Mrs. B's did, mild mouth washes may be used. Sodium bicarbonate in warm water is probably the best.

To help keep a geographic tongue healthy, good mouth hygiene habits are important. Teeth should be kept free of tartar and rough areas around teeth and bridges should be smoothed and polished. The tongue should be cleaned by wiping it gently with your toothbrush after you have brushed your teeth. The brush should be soft enough not to irritate the delicate membranes.

Do not attempt to be your own diagnostician: If you have a tongue lesion, see your dentist.

Ever Run Short of Pillows?

DEAR POLLY — When we have overnight guests and are short of pillows, I merely fold a full-size blanket to the size of a pillowcase, slip the pillowcase over the folded blanket and have a nice pillow.

I was so interested in the idea of raising a youngster's mattress to keep them from falling out of bed that I just had to try it. Again I was short on pillows, so I just took a full-sized blanket, folded it lengthwise so it reached the full length of the bed. The idea works; our little girl hasn't yet fallen out of bed.—VERJEAN

DEAR POLLY — When planning to entertain, most of us do prepare ahead of time as much as we can. I prepare foods and then write out the last-minute instructions and tape them to the side of the containers. One note might be, "Add one-half cup of milk and bake 10 minutes in 400-degree oven" or "garnish with parsley" and so on. This saves errors and keeps the kitchen uncluttered.—MRS. A. B.

GIRLS—This I like as I have so often forgotten some small detail like the parsley garnish or the nuts on top.—POLLY boy's or man's V-necked sweater, the directions usually instruct the knitter to put half of one side of the neck opening on a stitch holder while doing one half. Then one goes back and picks up the stitches to do the second side. I have found that it is better to connect a second ball of wool at the center of the V, on the wrong side, and knit both sides of the upper front at the same time on one needle. This is easier and assures one that both fronts will be exactly alike. Also, the knitter only has to read and follow the directions one time.—MRS. W. A. H.
DEAR POLLY—In knitting a

GIRLS — I always knit both sleeves and both sides of the front of a cardigan at one time, using two balls of wool and one needle so they are exactly alike.—POLLY

The Stranger From Texas

No True Mixing of Political Breeds

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Association

ATLANTIC CITY—Aug. 21—(NEA) — While the Democrats assembled here in national convention are granting President Lyndon B. Johnson formal title to their party, he is not now and may never become its full master as a professional politician.

To most of the leading northern political figures, including doctrinaire liberals and hard-shelled big city types, he is still the stranger from Texas they can't quite figure out. Nor he them.

Plainly, the President is trying—within certain limits. He is courting Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley, New York's Mayor Robert Wagner, and many another top northern Democrat. His links with these people are vastly better than they were when he entered the White House.

Says one knowledgeable northern professional:

"Johnson has improved a great deal. But improvement is not enough."

This man's view, widely shared in party circles, is that the President needs to know and understand the complex interworkings of the huge northern wing of his party to achieve real mastery. Yet there is broad doubt he can ever bring this off.

A good part of the problem, as indicated, is that a true mixing of political breeds—North and South—may not be manageable. This difficulty extends beyond Johnson himself to include the Texas aides he brought with him to his new job. They have been of little help in broadening his political command beyond the South.

The result has been to increase the President's dependence upon such old John F. Kennedy reliables as Lawrence O'Brien and Kenneth O'Donnell, White House political aides who know northern politics like a book.

The President's own efforts at mastery—and those of his Texas aides — are also

Follow the Signs

No, to answer your question, wonders will never cease.

Latest proof of this is the announced plan to erect metal signs at all bus stops in New York City, diagramming the complete route of the bus that stops there. (If more than one bus, the routes will be shown in different colors.)

Thus, at a glance, a traveler will know where he is and exactly where a particular bus will take him. But this is not all: Buses will be marked with their route number not only in front but on both sides as well. People will no longer have to race to get in front of the bus to see if it is the one they want.

This revolutionary development is staggering in its implications. Yet, like all great achievements of the human mind—the wheel, the airplane, Robert's Rules of Order — its basic concept is of the utmost simplicity. Like every great invention, one wonders why after all these thousands of years it was never thought of before.

Just imagine — signs telling you precisely how to get where you want to go. And provided by city hall, no less.

No, wonders will never cease.

Answer: You're slipping, Mom! Look at the third word in your first sentence, "i" before "e" except after "e" — remember?

A lot of people want to know what's wrong with our schools. Your local librarian can suggest several books and articles that have been written on the subject.

Personally, I'd rather dwell on what's right about them. Seems to me that our children today, for the most part, are getting an excellent education. If your son hasn't learned to spell — which I can well believe! look to him, rather than the school, for the reason.

When school reopens, have him bring home his spelling list each week. Then take time to go over the words with him. Meanwhile, encourage your family to play spelling games. Your son's teacher may suggest other spelling aids.

Of course, some students can spell words in a list perfectly, yet make mistakes when using these same words in a letter or report. Others are just naturally poor spellers, no matter what they do. Learning to use a dictionary properly is their salvation.

It may console you to know there is little relationship between spelling and intelligence.

BERRY'S WORLD

Polyunsaturated Theme Picked Up By The Minks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Some minks are going in for that polyunsaturated bit.

The idea is to get more lustrous and dense fur. This may brighten the lives of minks very little. But it gladdens some mink farmers, first; and later, it should please the ladies, too.

The polyunsaturated fatty acid diet was thought up originally for dogs, with the look of their pelts in mind rather than the condition of their hearts. Next, the feed mixture was given to horses. Then some mink farmers in Japan heard about it and tried it out. Now they are reported to be ordering it by the ton.

The Japanese said the polyunsaturated fatty acid diet improved the shading of sapphire and pastel mink. American mink farmers are trying it now and say it also increases the body weight of their animals.

As every woman knows, mink is a very important item, whether it's to own or to dream about. And if the shading and luster of their future fur coat can be improved over that in the coat the neighbor already has, no feed formula is too far out to be ignored.

There seems to be no saturation point, poly or otherwise, for the demand for mink, especially in the United States.

In 1951 this country produced 1,220,000 mink pelts. By 1962 the output had risen to 15 million pelts. This was 45 per cent of the world crop. There are many other reliable standbys on the fur market, but the gleam of mink still shines in countless American female eyes.

The luster diet isn't the only one offered minks. The Manitoba Fur and Game Station at the University of Manitoba in Canada uses a preparation called Lactocase as an economic replacement for red meat in the animals' rations.

A mixture of fresh meat by-products is the standard. But Lactocase is said to have a comparable amino acid pattern, and keeps the minks going at less cost to the farmer.

The luster additive is called mirra-coat. At the Hampshire, Ill., plant of the Borden Special Products Co., its makers describe it as a balanced blend of polyunsaturated fatty acids, vitamins A, B6 and E, with other unspecified ingredients.

There's a report from a usually reliable source that one Manhattan corporate executive is sprinkling the powdered mirra-coat on his breakfast cereal. He thinks the tufts at the side of his otherwise bald head are growing faster.

But he won't be sure until fall, because in hot weather hair grows faster anyway.

Enrolls In Class With 300 Males

CHICAGO (AP) — Coeds who are wont to calculate the male-to-female ratio might envy Virginia Rakocinski's situation: 300 to 1 and she's the one.

But the subjects she studies are a far cry from the usual coed fare — jujitsu, narcotics, criminal law and pistol shooting.

Miss Rakocinski, 24, of suburban Evanston, is enrolled in the Chicago police training division's 13-week course with 300 men.

The attractive brunette is the first woman to go through the course with men.

Female trainees usually attend the school in a separate class. This time Miss Rakocinski was the only girl candidate and it was judged impractical to set up a special class for her.

Despite the ratio, she hasn't been dating.

"I'm here to study," she said. "besides, don't forget many of the men are married."

Miss Rakocinski, a shapely 5-foot-5, 120-pounder, said she decided to become a policewoman "because I wanted to do something very different and challenging."

She already has met one challenge: she topped 42 applicants to win a policewoman's job on the Skokie police department. Skokie is a suburb served by the Chicago police training school.

A graduate of Mundelein College in Chicago, with a degree in chemistry, Miss Rakocinski quit a job in the radioactive research department of a Skokie pharmaceutical firm.

The ferry was lifted from the river with large cranes and had maintenance done on its hull.

Sergeant Meyer, assigned to the 814th Engineer Company, 37th Engineer Group near Hanau, Germany, entered the Army in March 1951. He was last stationed at Ft. Hood, Tex., and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in Dec. 1961.

His wife, Liselotte, is with him in Germany.

Maj. Heiss is an assistant supply officer in the brigade's Headquarters. He entered the Army in Oct. 1952.

The 33-year-old major is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, Sedalia, and Milliken University, Decatur, Ill. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. His wife, Sally, lives at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Hardware Store In Centralia Razed By Fire

CENTRALIA, Mo. (AP)—Fire destroyed the two-story Nelson Hardware store in Centralia Monday night and adjoining buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Firemen from Mexico, Columbia and Auxvasse helped fight the blaze for about five hours.

Tom Davis of Auxvasse was injured in a fall from a ladder, and several firefighters were overcome by smoke.

Smoke and water got into Pringers IGA store on one side of the hardware and the Lewis Cleaners on the other side. The American Legion hall above the cleaning shop also was affected.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the middle of the

Sonic Boom Fatal To 430 Sparrows

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—The sonic boom from a jet aircraft is believed to have caused the deaths of approximately 430 sparrows at Breezy Point, a fishing lake near Faucett, Mo.

Mrs. Lloyd Wagner said that a jet caused a sonic boom late Friday evening as it passed over the lake area. The next morning the birds were found floating on the north side of the lake.

She explained the birds apparently sleeping in the trees on that side of the lake were killed by the concussion from the sonic boom.

In the big romance between clothes and the girl ...the newspaper is the go-between

Every woman loves clothes, period. She loves to look at the newspapers to see what's in, what's out, who's wearing what. When she reads the fashion ads, she feels she's in the store. And quicker than you can get there checking ad response, chances are she will be in the store. Because newspapers are the ideal medium to tell the clothes story; they tell where to buy, and in their detailed sketches or photographs, they can give a woman the essential buying information. (Just as true in foods, home furnishings, cars, and everything else.) No wonder newspapers are the No. 1 advertising medium.

Carty's Bat Spikes Braves In 12-9 Victory Over Phils

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rico Carty of the Milwaukee Braves admits he was a bit over-anxious about breaking into organized baseball.

He signed with just about every club in the Dominican Republic. And with San Francisco, And Cincinnati. And he had his runaway pen in hand, ready to sign with St. Louis, when Milwaukee protested.

But the Braves haven't protested since.

A 24-year-old outfielder making a bid for Rookie of the Year honors in the National League, Carty slammed five straight hits — a homer, three doubles and a single — as the Braves walloped the first-place Philadelphia Phillies 12-9 Monday night.

Carty has hit like that in the Braves' chain ever since they took his ink well away by appealing to the late George Trautman, then the president of the minors.

Seems that Carty — "I was just a kid and I didn't realize what I was doing" — had signed with the Estrellas club in the Dominican Republic before wielding his pen for the Giants and Reds. The Estrellas club had sold Carty to the Braves.

Against the Phillies, Carty doubled in the first, singled in the second, homered in the fourth and doubled in the fifth and the seventh, lifting his average from .312 to .323 with the spurt while bringing his home run output to 13 and his runs batted in total to 56.

The loss trimmed the Phillies' lead to 6½ games over the San Francisco Giants, who broke a tie for second place with Cincinnati by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2. In other NL action, St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 5-1 and Houston blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, lost an opportunity to gain ground on American League-leading Baltimore, falling two games behind the Orioles after a 4-3 loss to Minnesota in the only game on the schedule.

Carty led a 16-hit Milwaukee attack against five Philadelphia pitchers. Hank Aaron chipped in with his 22nd homer and three runs batted in while Eddie Mathews collected three hits.

Wes Covington supplied most of the fireworks for the Phillies, driving in six runs with two homers and a pair of doubles. Clay Dalrymple also homered for Philadelphia.

The Giants put it away against the Dodgers in the first inning with a four-run outburst helped along by Tommy Davis' error on a Willie Mays liner. That produced one run, a grounder by Orlando Cepeda drove in the second and Jim Hart finished things up with a two-run homer.

The Dodgers scored their only runs in the first on a homer by Willie Davis, then were shut out the rest of the way by Jim Dufalo. Dufalo, who hadn't pitched a complete game since his first major league start in 1961, allowed only six hits.

The Twins scored twice in the second inning against the White Sox with the aid of an error by Al Weis, and added two more in the third on singles by Rich Rollins, Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles. Then they held on as the White Sox muffed their opportunities.

The White Sox had the potential tying runs in the sixth, but Jim Kaat picked Don Buford off first to end the inning. Chicago then closed to within one run in the eighth, but reliever Al Worthington got Moose Skowron and Buford on short flies with the tying run on third. Bill White hit a two-run homer for the Cardinals in the eighth and Ken Boyer followed with another homer, taking the pressure off Bob Gibson. Gibson was working on a 2-1 lead at that point and wound up with a six-hitter while striking out 12.

Pitcher Bob Bruce, who allowed only two hits, got the Colts winning rally started in the eighth inning with a single off Lou Burdette. Walt Bond's single and an error on the play by Billy Williams let both runs score. Hal Woodeshick pitched the ninth for Houston after Bruce hurt his back.

SPORTS

Experience Counts

Behind-the-Scene Glimpse At Successful Auto Racing

Al Sweeney, who as president of National Speedways, Inc., directed three highly successful auto racing meets at the Missouri State Fair the past weekend, disclosed an interesting behind-the-scenes glimpse of the speed sport in post-race conversation with fair officials and newsmen.

The Des Moines-based organization, oldest of its kind in the United States, had just concluded not only the three race meets here but since Friday had supervised similar programs at the Iowa State Fair, Des Moines, and the Wisconsin Valley Fair, Wausau, which drew 106,000 total grandstand attendance for nine outings.

Outside gate figures at Sedalia and Des Moines were in excess of 50,000 and 80,000 respectively.

Auto race crowds ranged from the 16,000 who saw late model stock car racing here Sunday down to the 5,000 who viewed super modified cars in action at Wausau Sunday night. Racing were a total of 285 cars and drivers in fields ranging between the 27 late models here Sunday and the 80 modifieds at Wausau that night.

What does it take to run off nine race meets in three cities in as many days and do it simultaneously? Experience, Sweeney tells you, not necessarily speaking of his own.

"We figured it up a year or so ago, and it came out that the average National Speedways staff member had more than 12 years experience working directly in some phase of auto racing," he says.

Sweeney has a staff of 15 at this fair, most of whom are local or area residents. At Des Moines 16 people are at work and eight operate the Wausau race. Here, again, local personnel are at work under the di-

Man-Wife Tie In Horseshoes

A husband-wife tie resulted in the weekly horseshoe tournament Thursday night at Liberty Park. Earl Winston tied his wife, Vicki Winston, and then managed to take first place by the number of points in his losing game. Vicki is a former national women's world horseshoe champion.

Coming in third was Wayne Winston; fourth, Bud Larson; fifth, Sam Harlan; sixth, Logan Wulff; seventh, Vern Abney; eighth, C. Martin; ninth, Charles Rush; tenth, Everett Stumpf.

Due to the State Fair this week, the tournament will not be held Thursday night. However, activity will be resumed next Thursday, Sept. 3.

Dates for one type of racing obviously can't conflict," Sweeney points out, "nor can you schedule consecutive dates for the same type cars in cities too far apart for the drivers to make the jump overnight. The availability of cars and drivers must be considered, as well as loss of vehicles and drivers, however temporary, because of accidents."

The Sweeneys leave their Tampa, Fla., home in May and don't return until early October, when the season concludes. And then? "Well, we sometimes take a short trip, but mostly we like to work around the place a bit. It really isn't very long then before the convention opens, and that means back to work," Sweeney says. Next year he'll be back for what will be his 31st year of helping bring fair patrons a glimpse of the sport that is constantly the number one grandstand attraction.

Two-Heat Battle Staged At Races

A bitter two-heat battle was staged in the featured three-year-old colt pacing stake, Monday, at the Missouri State Fair's harness racing program, between Speedway and Imperial Counsel. The race went to the first heat of 2:06 1-5 for the mile. Imperial's time for the second heat was 2:07 2-5.

Speedway is owned by John Smith of Donnellson, Iowa, with Jim Donald in the sulky. Imperial Counsel was handled by Royce Carey, the nation's leading percentage driver three years ago, and is owned by C. R. Updyke of Kirksville.

The opening heat was decided on a photo finish camera with Speedway's nose showing in front of the wire.

A straight heat winner won the three-year-old trotting stake. Bamas Sheary, driven by Leland Perrin, and owned by Kenneth Snyder of Lancaster Wis. Bamas Shear had times of 2:08 1-5 and 2:06 1-5.

A decisive two-heat victory in the trotting event for Missouri-owned horses was enjoyed by Day Mangus, an old favorite of Missouri fair racing fans, who piloted Myola. He was presented a beautiful trophy for the win.

Myola was clocked at :.07 for the first heat and 2:08 2-5 for the second.

Mack Trabert was in the sulky when Doctor Beau was much the best in winning both heats of the pace for Missouri-owned horses. His times were 2:07 and 2:09 1-5.

The program for Tuesday will feature Lan Dow in the two-year-old pace. Owned by Ward Brothers of Bloomington, Ill., Lan Dow last week was the $45,000 Illinois State Fair Colt State at Springfield, Ill.

Fulton Ball Team Still In Tourney

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament turns into its last week with 14 teams still in contention, although most of them have lost one game.

From now on the list in the losers' bracket will be trimmed rapidly.

Four teams were eliminated Monday and two will go out tonight.

Those ousted Monday were Indianapolis, with a 1-2 record, Milwaukee (2-1), Lubbock, Tex. (1-2) and Trenton, N.J. (2-2).

Ponchatoula, La., (3-1) beat Trenton 14-10, scoring seven runs in the first inning and five in the third.

Eureka, Calif. (3-0) beat Wyoming, Mich., (2-1) 5 to 3; Wichita Dreamliners (2-1) trounced Lubbock 10-4 in seven innings; Wichita Glass (2-1) defeated Indianapolis 7-3, and Kingsport, Tenn., (3-1) outlasted Milwaukee 13-12.

Tonight's games (CST):
5:15 p.m. — West Point, Miss. (2-1) vs. Gibsonton, Fla. (2-1).
7:45 p.m. — Fulton, Mo. (2-0) vs. Bellingham, Wash. (2-0).

Cardinals Cut Down Pittsburgh

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Gibson's pitching mastery and St. Louis Cardinal power, things of the past, returned unexpectedly Monday night, maybe too late.

Gibson, once the cream of the Cards' staff, looked the part of an ace by cutting down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-1, with a six-hitter in St. Louis. He struck out 12.

Supporting him with home runs were Ken Boyer and Bill White, who lead the power-poor Cardinals with only 17 and 16 home runs respectively.

White connected with a man on in the eighth and Boyer followed with a solo blast that clinched the contest.

The Cardinals spotted the Pirates a run in the fourth on a triple by Jeffery Lynch and Bob Bailey's single, but came back with two markers in their half of the fourth.

Lou Brock, White and Boyer all singled for one run with Tim McCarver's sacrifice fly bringing home the second.

Gibson, touted as the ace of the staff early in the season after winning his first five games, has been a huge disappointment. The victory Monday night was only his 11th against 10 defeats.

The victory still left the Cardinals 10 games behind National League leading Philadelphia.

The Cardinals will start Curt Simmons (13-9) against Pittsburgh and Bob Veale (13-10) tonight.

Faulkner, Broncos' Coach, Like a Kid With a New Toy

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Whether it's for two years or whether it's forever, Jacky Lee is a sight for sore eyes in Denver. Jack Faulkner, the Broncos' coach, is like a kid with a new toy.

"I'll take Lee anyway I can get him," said Faulkner. "In this business you go along from year to year. Who knows? After two years maybe we can get him away from them anyway. I'm not going to worry about two years from now."

Lee, the No. 2 quarterback behind George Blanda at Houston, recently was sent to Denver on a two-year loan with the understanding he is to be turned back to the Oilers at that time.

"This gives us a guy who can lead us," said Faulkner. "It is the first real experienced quarterback we've had since I have been here, except Frank Trippuca."

"We really needed help at quarterback. John McCormick had a knee operation last year and Mickey Slaughter had a dislocated shoulder last season. We had to go with Don Breau. If Breau had been hurt last season we would have had to use Lionel Taylor at quarterback."

Lee will have a fine target in split end Taylor who has led the pass receivers in each of the AFL's four years. Bill Groman is behind Taylor.

Matt Snorton, a rookie from Michigan State, probably will out Tom Rychlec as tight end. Bob Scarpito is the flanker but Faulkner has come up with a speedy rookie in Odell Barry of Findlay.

Fullback Billy Joe and halfbacks Gene Mingo, Charlie Mitchell and Hewitt Dixon will handle the running.

Eldon Danenhauer and Jim Perkins at tackles, Tom Nomina and Bob McCullough at guards and Giant rookie Ray Kubala of Texas A&M at center probably will be the front line. Harold Olson and Jerry Sturm will be the swing men.

Faulkner is high on corner men with Willie West acquired from Buffalo, and Willie Brown, a second year man from Grambling. Goose Gonsoulin plays the right safety.

Tommy Janik is out of action for a few weeks with a shoulder injury while Norm Bass, former Kansas City pitcher, fights veteran Billy Atkins for the job. Leon Mavity, signed by Denver for both football and baseball, will be a reserve defensive back.

Two ex-New York Jets, end Ed Cooke and tackle Charlie Janerette, will be on the defensive line with Ray Jacobs and Leroy Moore or Chuck Gavin.

One Step Nearer To America Cup Defense

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Constellation has moved a step closer to selection as the yacht to defend the America's Cup next month, beating American Eagle again to remain undefeated in the final trials.

Observers feel a Constellation victory in today's race will prompt the race committee of the New York Yacht Club to choose her over American Eagle.

Constellation, with Bob Bavier at the helm, scored a 4 minute and 15 second victory over American Eagle Monday, giving her a 6-0 record in the final trials.

Pitcher's Wife Dies

TRENTON, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, 30, of Thorofare, N.J., a well-known racing driver in the East, died Monday night in St. Luke's Hospital of injuries suffered Sunday in a race at nearby Nazareth Speedway.

Her husband, a scout for the Baltimore Orioles, was named to the baseball Hall of Fame last year.

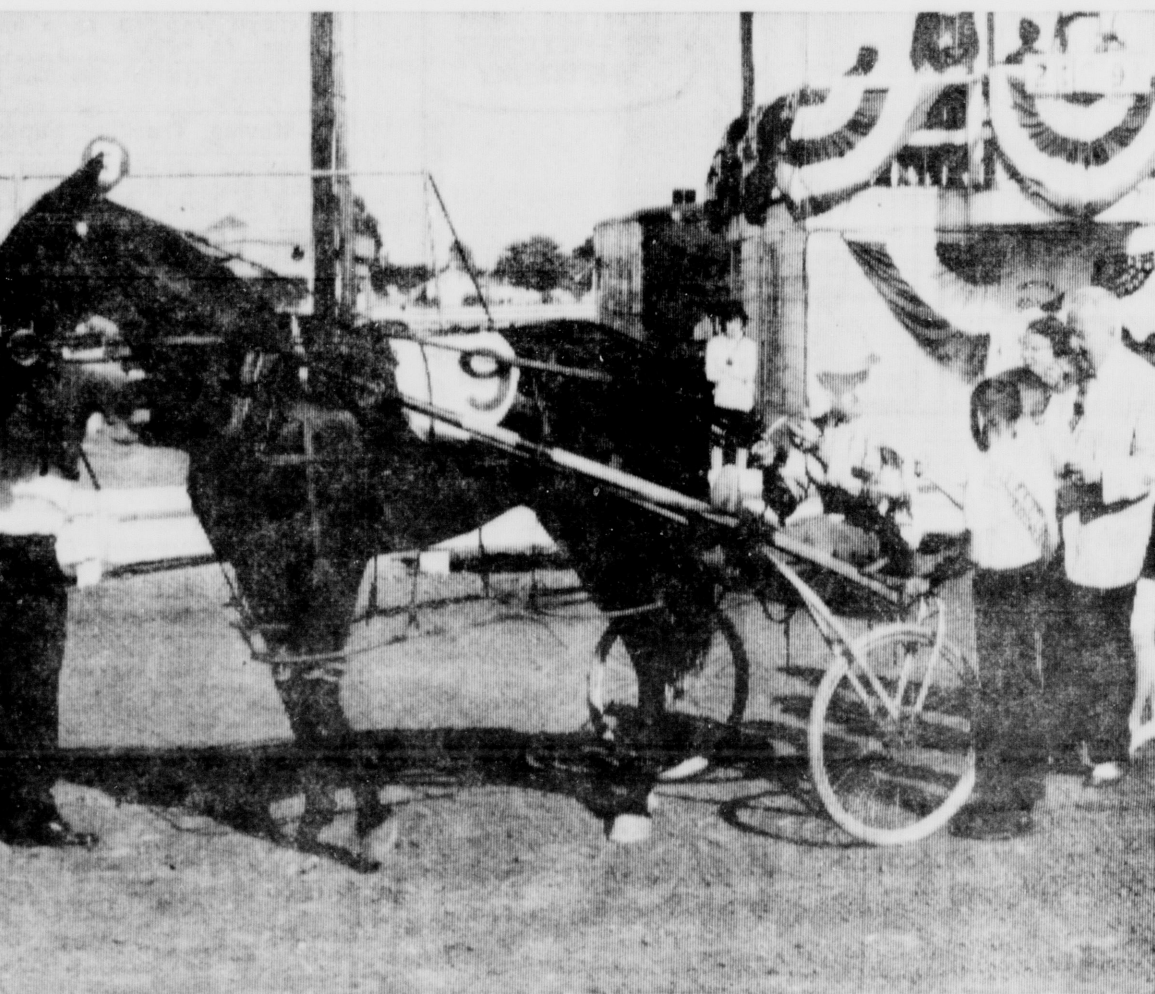

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, 2 p.m., in Trenton. Burial will be in Clear Lake, Wis., Thursday.

CHARLES O. FINLEY, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, gets all set for the famed Beatles, wig and all Monday as Miss Lee Stepp, Secretary and Office manager of General Artists Corp. puts the finishing touch to the hair piece. Finley, pointing to a photograph of Ringo Starr, announced that the Beatles had accepted his offer of $150,000 to appear in Municipal stadium Sept. 17, for a concert. Finley said all the profits from the show will go to charity.

Bill and Tom Huber, sons of Herman W. Huber, Jefferson City attorney, present the Secretary of State Trophy to "Doctor Beau," winner of the fourth race at the Missouri State Fair Monday afternoon. Owner of the brown gelding, J. D. Specker, Mayview, Mo., was not on hand for the presentation. A large Monday afternoon crowd including 432 persons representing 96 counties for Farm Family Day, watched the race.

Racing Driver Dies

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Jack McLaughlin, 30, of Thorofare, N.J., a well-known racing driver in the East, died Monday night in St. Luke's Hospital of injuries suffered Sunday in a race at nearby Nazareth Speedway.

Wins Keg Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Nelson Burton Jr., St. Louis University student, won the Louisville Open Bowling Tournament and a top prize of $3,000.

The 22-year-old Burton, whose father is a professional bowler and was named to the Bowling Hall of Fame this year, had a total of 9,510 pins during the 40 games of the tournament, including 650 bonus pins for winning 11 of 16 games in Sunday's match play final.

Burton is taking time off from college to follow the pro bowling tour. He said he plans to return to school "when my bowling falls off. In previous tournaments this year he has won a total of $1,977.

77 Viet Cong Die In Control Sweep

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces killed 77 Viet Cong guerrillas during a major sweep for control of the rice crop in the delta area around Binh Dinh, a U.S. military source said today.

He said a three-day Vietnamese army operation also reportedly had captured 52 Communists and taken a number of weapons.

The rice crop is nearing harvest and government forces in the area 275 miles northeast of Saigon are trying to keep as much of it as possible out of Communist hands.

Latest reports said the government lost three killed and 16 captured in the sweep. The operation is continuing.

Beatles Debut In Hollywood And Score Hit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Beatles made their debut in Hollywood society Monday night and scored as big a hit as they do with teen-type audiences.

The shaggy singers from Liverpool were the attraction at a garden party to benefit the Hemophilia Foundation.

It was a question of who was more excited — movie stars' children at seeing the Beatles or the Beatles at seeing the movie stars.

Movie moppets of all sizes attended. John Forsythe brought his Page, 13, Brooke, 10, and Anne, 14.

"They drug me here," he complained mildly.

Jack Palance had his three children in tow. Shelley Winters was busy shooting photos of her Romina, 11.

Lloyd Bridges lifted his Cindy, 11, atop his shoulders for a better view of Ringo, Paul, John and George.

Edward G. Robinson escorted his granddaughter. "In all my years I've never seen anything like the response these boys get," he remarked.

Meat Prices Mounting As NFO Holds

CORNING, Iowa (AP) — Housewives were paying higher prices for meat in some cities today as the National Farmers Organization continued to withhold cattle from markets in 23 states.

Meat on the hoof was bringing the highest prices in more than a year for those who did sell.

However, receipts were down at major markets as the holding action entered its fifth day. Midwest packing plants were laying off employees.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley at the organization's national headquarters here said retail price increases at this stage would be unjustified.

He said it appeared that "retail outlets will take unfair advantage of the situation and raise prices toward the end of the week."

Sporadic incidents of violence occurred as truckers tried to deliver meat animals despite the holding action.

At Duluth, Minn., retailers said fresh beef and pork cuts were up as much as 10 cents a pound.

In Boston, two grocery chains — First National Stores and Stop and Shop — said meat prices are likely to go up later this week.

NFO members massed at many marketing places Monday to try to talk truckers out of delivering animals.

The announced NFO policy is to hold out for its price goals of $22.75 a hundredweight for No. 1 and No. 2 hogs, $32.45 for choice beef cattle and $29.45 a hundredweight for sheep. It seeks contracts guaranteeing these prices, the same goal as in 1962 when it conducted a 33-day holding action.

Prices for hogs reached $20 at Chicago and Indianapolis and $19.25 at Omaha Monday. Prime steers brought $28.50 at Chicago, $27.50 at Omaha and $27 at Indianapolis.

Browns Have Confidence In Groza

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were 28 seconds remaining on the clock. Cleveland's Lou Groza calmly lined up his field goal attempt with the Browns trailing the Los Angeles Rams 28-27 in the National Football League championship game.

As Groza approached the ball for the all-important kick, on the sidelines, the Browns already were heaving their helmets in the air in a sign of victory.

That was 13 years ago, and Groza justified the Browns' confidence, kicking the winning field goal.

Once again, Monday, the Browns expressed their confidence in Groza, now a 40-year-old veteran of 18 professional football seasons, by trading rookie kicking specialist Dick Van Raaphorst to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

There had been speculation that Van Raaphorst, a 10th round draft choice from Ohio State tutored by Groza, would replace his teacher as the Browns extra point and field goal kicker.

"I feel good this year and will play as long as I can," said Groza. "I never work on the principle of leaving."

"I'll probably be around until they sweep me out."

They may never sweep him out of the record books.

The alltime leading scorer in the NFL, Groza holds eight league records and his seniority as a pro dates back to the original Browns of the now defunct All-American Conference.

Groza will be shooting to hit the 1,000-point mark in his NFL career this season. He has scored 987 points on 176 field goals, 453 extra points and one touchdown.

The touchdown came on a pass from Otto Graham in 1950 on a since outlawed tackle eligible play.

One other trade was concluded during the day as the 22 pro football clubs trimmed their squads to get down to the 45-player limit by the Tuesday deadline.

The Green Bay Packers reduced their squad below the limit by trading veteran defensive lineman Urban Henry to the Pittsburgh Steelers for a future draft choice.

Luci Dances And Works At Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Luci Johnson made a whirlwind entry into the convention scene, dancing the frug, walking the Boardwalk and applauding the convention keynote.

The first of the Johnson family to arrive here, 17-year-old Luci sampled lobster and frozen custard Monday and looked over the oceanfront home her family is to occupy.

She seemed to find everything satisfactory and decided to go to work today with friends at the headquarters of Young Citizens for Johnson.

The President's daughter told "Teen-Dems" and Young Citizens anything they could do from "licking envelopes to running errands" would help her father's campaign.

She said she came to pitch in, too, because she realized "my generation has responsibilities."

Luci put off the work for a while, though, to look over the sights.

She signed autographs, picked up LBJ buttons and went shopping in two stores along the oceanfront.

Her only purchase — a pair of $6.95 rope and leather sandals, size 6, medium.

They probably will come in handy on the campaign job today. A teen-worker advised the President's daughter to "wear flat shoes and a dirty dress" when she reported for headquarters duty.

Luci was supposed to wait until Wednesday to come here with her mother and sister, Lynda, 20. But she begged to come ahead and flew in to open the Young Democrats' headquarters and attend their dance, where she demonstrated her prowess in doing the frug, a version of the twist in which she excels.

Wearing coat and dress of pale blue to match her eyes, with a pert white bow on her black hair, Luci climaxed the day by taking a front row seat in the presidential box at the convention's opening session and applauding the speakers.

The grandstand show runs thru Thursday with a special country and western music show featuring Leroy Van Dyke next Sunday evening.

New Missile Bases Reported In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two new bases for medium-range missiles are being built in Cuba, the Sentinels of Liberty, an exile organization, said today.

Both are on the north coast of Oriente Province, according to the organization, which claims underground sources. It said Russians are directing the construction.

Plastic Glue Is Answer For Pockets

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Starting from less than zero—a hole to be exact—and working up through a melted wastebasket, W. C. Halcomb has created a new business.

A factory on the edge of Harrisonville is now in production—and Halcomb has promised his wife he'll buy her a new wastebasket one of these days, and fill it with $5 bills.

Halcomb's factory turns out iron-on patches for men's trousers, designed to eliminate that perennial problem, a hole in the pocket.

Like most inventors, Halcomb had his failures before his success. He used to work in a cleaning shop and saw hundreds of pairs of trousers come in with holes in the pockets, or with patched pockets. The adhesives then being used on iron-on patches for pockets lasted one or two cleanings because of detergents and solvents used by cleaners.

Halcomb designed an adjustable pocket tip to fit various sizes and shapes of pockets. And he built a machine out of spare parts of practically everything to make the pocket tips.

But he ran into the same problem other designers had — the adhesives wouldn't stay stuck.

On Christmas day ten years ago Halcomb's wife sent him to the incinerator with a wastebasket. He dumped the wrappings in, set the plastic basket down, and started to chat with a neighbor.

When he got back to the basket, one side of it was melted to a thin film, and a blob of plastic had collected at the bottom.

"With a carving knife I tried to mold the sagging plastic back in shape," Halcomb said. "Then the darned knife became bonded to the plastic. A rag I was holding also became bonded to the basket."

Halcomb took the basket-knife and-rag to the cleaning shop and tried to get them apart with solvents. But nothing worked.

He realized then what this adhesive would do for patch pockets.

Halcomb took the matter to chemists at the Spencer Chemical Co., and after considerable work they developed a thin film of plastic that would bond with cloth when heated with an iron

Private Life Is Private To Elvis' Girl

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — On the matter of whether a working girl should leave home, Ann-Margret is firmly affirmative. She maintains a house for her parents and an apartment for herself to illustrate her point.

"I think every girl should live by herself as a transition between the time of being with her parents and of getting married," she said. "It is better for everyone if she does."

Does that mean that the auburn-haired, high-voltage actress is heading for a wedding? "No" at all," she replied. "But I'll be ready when it happens."

"I drop by my folks' house three or four nights for dinner," she said. "My mother is a fabulous cook, and just the sight of my own kitchen depresses me."

"Aside from dinner, it's better for me to live alone. If I feel moody at 5 in the morning and want to go for a wild ride on my motorcycle, I can do it without bothering anybody. And if I want to come in late from a date, I don't have to make any explanations."

About her dates. They are exclusively with Elvis Presley. She said she goes out every night with him. Does this sound serious? You couldn't prove it by Ann-Margret. Ask her what she and Elvis do on dates and the answer comes "Next question."

On matters concerning her private life she remains adamant. "My life is public on the screen, on the stage, in recordings and on publicity tours. But in my home, in my apartment and on dates, my life is my own. I don't knock on other people's doors. I don't expect them to knock on mine."

Her attitude netted her the sour apple award of the Hollywood Women's Press Club, which annually levels a blast at the male and female stars who do not play the publicity game according to the rules.

Ann-Margret considers it a bum rap. She points out that she gave 130 interviews during the previous year, did numerous photo layouts and made two publicity tours in this country and one abroad.

At any rate, her attitude toward publicity appears to have arrested her career not a whit. She continues to move from one film to the next and now has three awaiting release.

and which would withstand various cleaning fluids.

Halcomb says he hasn't been able to fill the wastebasket with $5 bills yet, but his wife is patient.

In the first six months of this year Halcomb's factory has turned out more than two and one-half million patches and pockets.

Columnist's Mail Bag Again Open

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Seven out of 10 American husbands die before their wives. But this has no connection with the fact that the nation now has 5,000 women life insurance agents, many of them highly successful.

The Tokyo Electric Power Co. of Japan now is the world's largest generator of electric power with a capacity of 7,170 million kilowatts. A U.S. firm, the Pacific Gas & Electric Co., is second.

Four American families have no trouble keeping up with the Joneses, at least numerically. They are the Smiths, Johnsons, Williams and Browns. Trailing the Joneses, who are fifth in number, are the Millers, Davis, Martins, Andersons and Willsons.

Quotable notables: "Truth telling, I have found, is the key to responsible citizenship. The thousands of criminals I have seen in 40 years of law enforcement have had one thing in common: every single one was a liar" — J. Edgar Hoover.

Catholic Schools Register Negroes

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Two of St. Augustine's Catholic schools started registering Negroes Monday for the fall term.

It will be the first integration of Catholic schools in the area. School officials would not comment. A third Catholic school, operated for Negroes, has been closed.

Victim of Leukemia Dies With Debt Paid

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Ray Chappell, the gallant teen-ager with leukemia who battled so hard to pay his medical bills, died knowing his debts were paid in full.

The 18-year-old boy died Monday in a hospital a few minutes before newsmen could present him with a bill marked "paid in full."

Chappell's family, however, told him of the news Saturday when his condition worsened.

The youth worked with a highway construction crew, but was able to earn only $60. News stories of his plight brought in $1,400 in money and pledges which his father, Ray Chappell, a cotton mill worker in Aragon, Ga., said would be used to pay medical expenses. What is left will be applied to the boy's funeral expenses.

Democrats Get Blame

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri is not growing "because the present state government does not support things that will make us grow," Ethan Shepley, Republican candidate for governor, said Monday night.

"People want a change," Shepley told about 80 persons at a 16th Ward meeting. "The other party has suited itself too long. It has done what is natural when you have a monopoly. For 20 years selfish, self-centered Democrats have believed this was their state and they have said who should run it and how."

"A monopoly, whether in business or government, is bad, unfair, and the people suffer," Shepley said he was not saying that Missouri was run by criminals or was ready to collapse. Neither statement would be true, he said.

As for stagnation, he said,

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Census Bureau says there is at least one television set in 93 of every 100 American households and one family in six has two or more sets.

Two years ago, a similar bureau survey showed at least one television set in 90 per cent of all U.S. homes.

WASHINGTON (AP) —The use of nuclear energy to remove salt from sea water and generate electricity at the same time will be discussed at the third annual international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy at Geneva Aug. 31 to Sept. 9.

It could also form part of the agenda for an international symposium on water desalination to be held in Washington Oct. 3-9 next year and to which the United States has invited all 114 nations with which it has diplomatic relations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists have discovered an undersea mountain almost as tall as California's Mt. Whitney but its peak is still 3,800 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey announced Monday the discovery 175 miles south of Wake Island. Its ship, Pioneer, found the mountain while on a six-month scientific expedition to the Indian Ocean.

The underground mountain rises about 14,130 feet above the ocean floor compared with the 14,959 feet above sea level for Mt. Whitney.

"Industry will not move to a state that does not support education, and Missouri is substantially behind the national average in such support."

In Ranks With Area Servicemen

Airman Charles L. Petty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Petty of Marshall, has completed the first phase of his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Airman Petty has been selected for technical training as a weather specialist at the Air Training Command (ATC) school at Chanute AFB, Ill. His new unit is part of the vast ATC system which trains airmen and officers in the diverse skills required by the nation's aerospace force.

The airman is a 1963 graduate of Slater High School at Slater.

Michael D. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Edwards, 521 West Fifth St., Sedalia, Mo., was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program at the University of Missouri.

Lieutenant Edwards also received his degree upon graduation from the University. He is being assigned to one of the more than 250 installations world-wide where Air Force combat and support units are based.

The lieutenant is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School.
